Bubble Clean Skin Care

QUAPOLLAR RF

QuaPollar RF technology painlessly provides optimum quadripolar radiofrequency energy (RF) for the skin surface and subcutaneous fat layers. The controlled energy is sent through electrodes and is limited to the treatment area. This delivery gives immediate visible results on the face. The focused facial treatment regenerates collagen fibers in the dermis layer in order to achieve the result of firming and hardening of the skin as well as wrinkle removal.

UCOSMO

uCosmo uses ultrasound technology to infuse cosmetic liquids into the depth of the skin through a precision system by controlling the infusion rate of the liquid as the treatment time is pre-set, the liquid is pushed forward and is gently released from the opening of the ultrasound tip. On the surface of the tip, the liquid will be pulverized into molecules, which easily penetrate the depths and is absorbed by the skin. With the tip of the vibration roller, the absorption of liquid will be accelerated.

ACQUA - FACE SYSTEM

VACUUM BUBBLE CLEAN

Vacuum BubbleClean applies 4 different types of cosmetic and liquid solutions with advanced vacuum technology. When the tip of the treatment with specially designed channels comes into contact with the skin, the vacuum begins to work and sucks the solution from the container to reach the surface of the skin where many tiny bubbles are found formed. These bubbles are combined with the solution and are strongly absorbed and quickly penetrate the skin, which makes the solution penetrate more deeply to completely clean impurities and dead skin cells safely and comfortably.

Clean Skin Care

Together they have different functions such as cell recovery, skin rejuvenation, facial firming, cosmetic infusion and facial cleansing in a single system.

OXYGEMEO

OxyGemeo is inspired by the famous healing powers of natural thermal waters. As is known the thermal waters they are known for the high concentration of CO2 that helps stimulate and produce more oxygenation in the skin due to the Bohr effect.

OxyGemeo produces countless tiny CO2 bubbles that burst gently on the surface of the skin by degassing the CO2 bubbles in the gel. The high concentration of CO2 triggers a response of the body and oxygenation of the skin naturally it is generated from within that it sends more and more oxygen to the treated area. At the same time OxyGemeo exfoliates the skin and creates an optimal environment for the infusion of essential nutrients.
